Impressive... I am fairly certain Faculty do not need pre-approval from CTCL, only consult with their AD... and I support this effort for PD credit... at the end of each class submit the PD credit application along with the grade report... I will confirm that formal pre-approval is not needed and will let you know if I find different...

Best regards,

Mitch McBee

Good morning Sir,

I hope you enjoyed a great weekend and I wish you a Happy Halloween! Just wanted to let you know I have been thinking about professional development and have been reviewing the bargaining agreement as you suggested.

In support of being a better online faculty member and course developer, I was interested in taking Harvard University's 16-credit Graduate Certificate in Learning Design and Technology, during this PDP cycle. Classes would begin in January, and I plan to complete it by December 2024.

In reviewing the form and agreement, I wasn't 100% sure if pre-approval was necessary, so I am sending it to you to cover the bases as I will be using tuition reimbursement to cover some of the cost of this. Please review the attached and let me know.

Thanks in advance for your support!

Rick
